

Dr Mika Salminen

Mika Salminen is the Director of the Finnish Institute for Health and Welfare (THL). His expertise is as a virologist and the surveillance and control of communicable diseases, international health security, contagion preparedness, microbiology and public health policy.